NOTES FOR COMPLETION OF THE WEEKLY REPORT ON SINGAPORE DOLLAR TRANSACTIONS

1 All banks in Singapore shall report their foreign exchange (FX) transactions against the Singapore dollar (S$) on a weekly basis using the template at Appendix 1. The completed reports¹ shall be submitted via MASNET to the Authority by 1700 hours on the working day immediately after the end of the reporting week. Each reporting week shall start on a Monday.

SECTIONS A & B OF REPORT

2 Purchases refer to purchases of foreign currency against S$ and sales refer to sales of foreign currency against S$. The actual S$ equivalent should be reported and all amounts should be reported to the nearest S$ million. The reports should be based on trade dates².

3 All FX transactions, whether done direct or through brokers, of at least US$1 million each have to be reported. Subject to the US$1 million threshold, FX transactions with non-bank customers should include all transactions in demand drafts, travellers cheques, telegraphic transfers, mail

² As an example, a trade is transacted in Week 1 (ie. trade date in Week 1) but its value date falls in Week 2. The trade should be included in the report for Week 1 and not Week 2.

transfers, bills of exchange and currency notes. Internal FX transactions³ within the bank need not be reported.

4 "Banks in Singapore" refer to all banks and merchant banks in Singapore. "Banks outside Singapore" include all banks and merchant banks outside Singapore.

5 Spot transactions refer to all transactions with value dates of up to 2 working days from the date of original transaction. They exclude the spot leg of a FX swap transaction and outright forward transaction reported previously, which, because time has elapsed, now have remaining maturities or value dates of up to 2 working days.

6 Outright forward transactions refer to all transactions with value dates of more than 2 working days from the date of original transaction. They exclude the forward leg of a FX swap transaction.

SECTION C OF REPORT

7 All banks shall also report, as at the end of each reporting week, their net open S$ FX positions accumulated through trading spot, outright forward and other FX transactions⁴ (eg. FX options). The net open S$ FX position reported should exclude positions that have been closed out or hedged.
