About Bukit Batok Town Park

Bukit Batok Town Park, commonly known as Little Guilin, is well known for its distinctive rock formation around a tranquil lake. The park was developed on the site of a former quarry where norite, the strongest type of rock found in Singapore, was mined. Visitors can enjoy scenic views of the quarry, where the still waters reflect the rock formations and surrounding greenery, creating a serene environment. The park's natural setting also provides a quiet space for leisurely walks and relaxation.
